The protection of information act

According to the law on the protection of information which came into effect in 2015, members will have to give written permission for their information to be made public. Institutions may be prosecuted if they do not have written consent for the publication of personal information. The information we have about members comprise title, first name, initials, surname, qualifications, residential address, postal address, contact numbers and Email address. To give consent for the publication of this information on the website and in the magazine The South African Music Teacher, we require a written signature. A scanned image of a signature subsequently sent by email will suffice.

Accordingly we will not display your personal information on the website unless we have obtained consent in the form of a signature.

Will you therefore be so kind as to fill in the form below and send back to the email address webmaster@sasmt-savmo.org.za together with a scanned signature. If you do not have access to a printer or scanner but have a cell phone which can access email, write a short note by hand ("I hereby give consent that ... etc.") and add a signature. Take a photo of the note with your cell phone and e-mail to webmaster@sasmt-savmo.org.za or SMS or Whatsapp to 0834425803.

If you do not reply we will assume that your personal information may not be published. Once you have given permission there is no need to do it again.

Do you give consent that your personal information as indicated above may be published on the SASMT website www.sasmt-savmo.org.za and in the magazine The South African Music Teacher?
